As Jesus said to His disciples in Matthew 21:22, “And all things you ask in prayer, believing, you will receive,” God’s children can receive the answers to whatever they ask in prayer with faith. However, the size and speed of the answers will be different from person to person.

Some people receive the answer just with a single time of prayer, some others receive just by harboring a heart’s desire, or still others need to pray for several days or offer up fasting and prayer to receive the answer. Moreover, there are some people who perform signs and cast out demons and heal the sick through the prayer of faith (Mark 16:17-18).

Suppose you have not experienced the work of God though you think you prayed with faith. Then, you should check whether your faith is true. We should show faith that is perfect enough to please God in order to receive whatever we ask with faith in prayer.

What, then, should we do to possess the full assurance of faith and thereby fulfill our hearts’ desires?

1. Relations between a sincere heart and full assurance of faith

Hebrews 10:22 reads, “Let us draw near with a sincere heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled clean from an evil conscience and our bodies washed with pure water.” If you come to God with a sincere heart in full assurance of faith, God will answer whatever you ask in prayer as He promised.

‘A sincere heart’ refers to a truthful heart void of falsehood. 1 Peter 1:16 says, “You shall be holy, for I am holy.” Deuteronomy 18:13 states, “You shall be blameless before the LORD your God.” As recorded, to the extent that we achieve the heart of the Lord (Philippians 2:5) which is a sincere heart, we will be able to possess full assurance of faith.

God knows that what a person with a sincere heart says is confession of truth and faith. So, He quickly gives answers to such person’s prayer. The extent of the truthfulness in one’s confession differs from person to person though they all say they believe God. The extent of each person’s truthfulness is consistent with the measure of faith recognized by God (Romans 12:3).

Let’s think about trust between people. You may show different levels of trust to each person around you. Suppose you left home while your children stayed at home. You may have said, “Keep the home safe while I am out. I trust you.” In fact, if you had really trusted them, you wouldn’t have said that you trusted them. It rather shows your imperfect trust to them. You may have talked about what they should do several times before you left and checked what they did by phone after you left. However, if your children are obedient you don’t have to say something several times. It’s because you trust them.

As explained, you may trust one child but may not trust another child. If the former asks you for something, you are likely to do it for him without asking the reason. But to the extent that your trust is less, you may ask the child why he wants to have something and even feel reluctant to do it for him. The same applies to the relation between God and us as His children. How trustworthy do you think you are in the sight of God?

I hope you will achieve a sincere heart so that God can recognize your faith as perfect faith and say, “You truly believe Me.”

2. Abraham’s sincere heart in full assurance of faith

Abraham became the Father of Faith because he had a sincere heart in full assurance of faith. He did not doubt any promise of God in any kind of situation. He only believed.

He was given God’s promise at the age of 75 that his offspring would form a great nation, but he could not have a child for the next over 20 years. However, when Abraham turned 99 and Sarah 89, though their bodies were unable to have a baby, God said again that they would have a son the following year.

Romans 4:19-22 states, “Without becoming weak in faith he contemplated his own body, now as good as dead since he was about a hundred years old, and the deadness of Sarah’s womb; yet, with respect to the promise of God, he did not waver in unbelief but grew strong in faith, giving glory to God, and being fully assured that what God had promised, He was able also to perform. Therefore it was also credited to him as righteousness.”

It was impossible to have a baby in their situation in human thought, but Abraham did not doubt the promise of God and believed it completely. God recognized his faith, and as He promised, Abraham finally gained a son Isaac the next year.

To become the Father of Faith, however, Abraham had to go through one more test. God told him to offer up his loving and precious son who he had gained at the age of 100 as a burnt offering. A burnt offering is a form of sacrifice practiced in the Old Testament time, and in the sacrifice the animal sacrifice was skinned and the skin was consumed by fire.

He believed God is able to raise people even from the dead even though he would offer up his son as a burnt offering (Hebrews 11:17-19). So, in the obedience to the Word of God, he bound his son Isaac and laid him on the altar. He stretched out his hand and took the knife to slay his son.

Right then, the angel of God appeared and said to him, “Do not stretch out your hand against the lad, and do nothing to him; for now I know that you fear God, since you have not withheld your son, your only son, from Me” (Genesis 22:12).

In this test, Abraham’s faith was recognized as perfect faith by God, and it was revealed all over the nations that he was appropriate to become the Father of Faith.

3. The fruit of a sincere heart in full assurance of faith

I have never doubted God even when I was faced with tests and hardship. My faith in God has increased day by day. I suffered from many diseases for seven years and was just waiting for death helplessly. But I met the living God and by His power all of my diseases were healed immediately.

Since I received such great grace and love from God, I earnestly wanted to know more about God. So, I attended every kind of worship services and revival meetings and diligently learned and practiced God's Word. I desired to listen to the Word more and understand more of His will. Right after I heard that it is not appropriate for Christians to drink alcohol and smoke, I stopped them. After I was taught to offer up a tithe and thanks-offering, I obeyed.

I also read the Bible and tried hard to do what it tells us to do, keep what to keep, not to do what is told not to do, and cast away what to cast away through prayer. If it was not easy, I fasted. As I prayed according to the Word and practiced it, I came to have a sincere heart free from falsehood and a pure and good heart that has no sin and evil. I came to resemble the Lord.

In the end, I came to ask God anything in prayer with confidence as 1 John 3:21 reads, "Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence before God." To the extent that I achieved a sincere heart, more of the full assurance of faith was given, and God answered what I asked with such perfect faith.

In February 1983, at the seventh month after the church's opening, my three little daughters were sleeping in the basement of the church building. They and a young man were found having no consciousness due to carbon monoxide poisoning. They were not likely to come back to life because they inhaled gases all night. We moved them to the sanctuary and laid them on the floor. I first went to the altar, knelt down before God, and offered up the prayer of thanksgiving.

And I came to them and prayed for them in the order of the young man, my youngest daughter, second daughter, and first daughter. Within one or two minutes, they all came around and got up. It helped my church members increase their faith, and my faith was also recognized by God and I received greater power from Him.

If you unchangingly show your genuine faith even in such tests of faith, God will regard your faith as true faith and surely repay it with blessing. Satan cannot bring any accusation against you receiving the blessing because they also see your faith is true. Since the incident, I have passed every test that came to me with a sincere heart in full assurance of faith and I received greater and greater power from above.

With the power of God given to me, I could lead overseas crusades beginning from 2000. It would have been impossible to hold such crusades when I had thought of the reality in front of me or used human wisdom. But we Manmin just believed the word of God, and as a result, great fruit transcending our imagination was borne and we greatly glorified God.

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ, a master key can open all the locks in a set; your perfect faith is like a master key. If you have perfect faith, you can make things that are impossible in this limited world possible in an instant. Therefore, I urge you to believe and completely rely on the power of God who can make everything turn around in a moment although you seem to be stuck in a situation of uncertainty and impossibility.

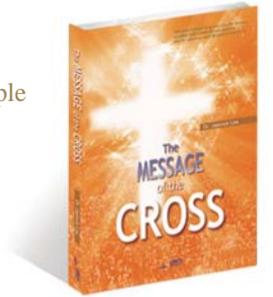

With a sincere heart in full assurance of faith, you can resolve any kind of problems no matter complicated they are. And you will be protected even in accidents, natural disasters, or infectious diseases. You can also glorify God as Daniel and his three friends did by surviving in the lions' den and in the furnace of blazing fire although any evil person tries to make you fall by evil schemes or snares.

2 Chronicles 16:9 reads, "For the eyes of the LORD move to and fro throughout the earth that He may strongly support those whose heart is completely His..." God's children sometimes meet some problems while living on the earth. In the problematic situations, God expects us to believe and rely on His power, pray with full assurance of faith, and stay dependent only on Him.

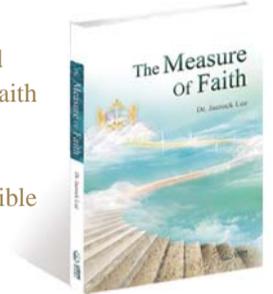

You can come close to God if you have your hearts sprinkled clean from an evil conscience and your bodies washed with pure water, which is the Word of God. That is, when you live by the Word, you can cast off untruthful elements and evil from your heart and achieve a sincere heart in full assurance of faith. I pray in the name of the Lord that by doing so you will receive the answers to whatever you ask to God.

“My husband recovered from acute cerebral infarction without any aftereffect!”

Deaconess Haesuk Lee, age 62,
Parish 24, Manmin Central Church

On March 13, 2018, my husband and I were on a trip to Europe. We were on the train in Zermatt to enjoy the beauty of the mountains covered with snow at 3,100m above sea level. While we were in the middle of the mountains, my husband, Brother Seokgeun Im, said that he felt dizzy and he did not look quite normal either. I thought it a symptom simply caused by the high altitude. But he still looked ill back at the hotel. We first looked back upon our believing lives and prayed.

The next morning, the staff of the travel agency was surprised to see his body leaning to one side and called an ambulance. Paramedics arrived and checked my husband's condition. They quickly moved him to hospital by helicopter. Now that I didn't have anyone to talk to or receive help from I could not but commit everything to God and prayed in the foreign country.

His MRI scan showed acute cerebral infarction had stricken him. The doctor told us that immediate medical action should be taken, but we heard that the expenses would be unimaginably high. We wanted to quickly return to Korea, but the hospital said we shouldn't. We signed a note of consent that the hospital would take no responsibility for the possible danger and consequences, and left the hospital. By the help of the tour guide, we changed our itinerary.

At 5p.m. on March 16, we arrived at Incheon International Airport after the eight-hour long flight from Zurich Airport. I took my husband to the hospital right away. The doctor said early treatment would have been crucial for his state and it was a miracle itself that my husband came to Korea alive through such a long flight. While he stayed in hospital, he could not move his right arm and leg due to paralysis and had a hard time pronouncing words.

On March 19, my parish pastor came to the hospital and prayed for him with the handkerchief of power on which Senior Pastor Dr. Jaerock Lee had prayed (Acts 19:11-12). After the prayer, he looked peaceful and recovered quickly. He again began taking steps and walking comfortably. He could easily move his hands and he regained the ability to pronounce words correctly.

Though the doctor said it would take at least six months for him to recover, he left hospital in nine days, on March 24. Moreover, he had no aftereffects at all and was normal. From April 5 he returned to work. Hallelujah!

Going through this incident he stopped drinking alcohol and said he would lead a renewed life in the sight of God. I give all thanks and glory to God who protected my husband just because he is a sheep of the shepherd and caused everything to work together for good.

MRI scan (before the prayer)

- ▲ Cerebral infarction in his right white substance
- ▶ Cerebral infarction in his left lateral ventricle

“My life has changed since all my questions on the Bible were answered!”

I was born into a Christian family and my father was a pastor. However, I had many questions on many parts of the Bible and felt confused about how to lead a proper Christian life. One Sunday in 2008, I turned on the TV and Dr. Jaerock Lee appeared on Enlace TV, a leading broadcaster for Spanish speaking people. Dr. Lee was delivering the sermon “The Message of the Cross”. The church's worship service looked peaceful and Dr. Lee's goodness and humbleness impressed me. I wanted to listen to more of his sermons and entered the church's website.

The website was run in eight languages, and Spanish was included, fortunately. I listened to his sermons and read the sermon texts in Spanish. I did so as well with updated sermons. His sermon “Heaven”, especially, deeply touched my heart. I went on to read his books such as The Message of the Cross, The Measure of Faith, and Spirit, Soul, and Body. As I read more and more, I became assured that the books were written in the Holy Spirit's inspiration based on the Bible.

I enjoyed reading the books Heaven and Hell and imagined how immense amount of prayer and fasting Dr. Lee had offered up to receive the interpretation of the profound mysteries of the spiritual world. As all the questions that I had had were answered through his sermons as sweet as the honeycomb that I had never before ‘tasted,’ my life has been renewed. I became more fervent, received the power of prayer, worked more faithfully in hope for heaven, and came to more endeavor to become sanctified. And as Dr. Lee said, I have read one chapter of the Bible and memorized a verse every day. So, I have read the whole Bible four times.

In February 2017, I registered online as a member of Manmin Central Church. I attend the church's worship services and Daniel Prayer Meeting on SNS such as Facebook and YouTube due to the time difference of 12 hours between Chile and Korea. I also teach my church members the summary of “The Message of the Cross” and “The Measure of Faith” based on a simple question-and-answer sheet. By doing so, my church members have learned many spiritual principles such as the importance of keeping the Lord's Day and they have received many blessings.

On March 19, 2018, I woke up from a severe stomachache. I laid the handkerchief on my abdomen and repented of what I had been short of according to the truth (Acts 19:11-12). I also prayed to receive healing and experienced the healing work of the pain subsiding.

Manmin Central Church is the world's best church. It shows the living God the Creator and shares the Lord's love. And powerful works of the Holy Spirit are performed in it.

I hope that through the ministry of Manmin, all people of Chile will experience the work of salvation and many Christians will be awakened from spiritual slumber.
